Executive Assistant Position Summary

Reporting directly to the President /CEO, the Executive Assistant provides executive support to C-Level management and will be responsible for performing a number of administrative duties and oversight of special projects. The Executive Assistant must enjoy working within a fast-paced, entrepreneurial environment that is results-driven. The ideal individual will have the ability to exercise good judgment in a variety of situations, with strong written and verbal communication, administrative and organizational skills, and the ability to maintain a realistic balance among multiple priorities. The Executive Assistant will have the ability to work independently on projects from conception to completion, and must be able to work under pressure at times to handle a wide variety of activities and confidential matters with discretion.

Roles and Responsibilities

- Complete a broad variety of administrative tasks for President /CEO including: managing multiple calendars and email accounts with high activity, completing expense reports, composing and preparing correspondence that is sometimes confidential, arranging complex and detailed travel plans and itineraries, and scheduling both vendor and client-related meetings.
- Plan, coordinate and ensure the President /CEO 's schedule is prioritized to strategy goals. Provide "gatekeeper" role for direct access to the President /CEO 's time and schedule for sales calls from prospecting companies and vendors.
- Keep President /CEO informed of key customer inquiries, upcoming commitments and responsibilities, following up appropriately.
- Schedule and plan weekly, monthly, quarterly and annual meetings.
- Determine appropriate course of action, referral, or response. Manage contacts and correspondence with such key individuals and Level One team to ensure next steps are clear and follow-ups are scheduled.
- Coordinate planned Conferences and special events as directed
- Prioritize conflicting needs; handle matters expeditiously, proactively, and follow-through on projects to successful completion, often with deadline pressures.
- Successfully complete critical aspects of deliverables with a hands-on approach, including drafting letters, personal correspondence, and other tasks that facilitate the President /CEO's ability to effectively lead the company.
- Proven ability to handle confidential information with discretion, be adaptable to various competing demands, and demonstrate the highest level of customer/client service and response.

Requirements

- Bachelor's degree in business or related field
- 2+ years' work experience as administrative executive support
- Human Resources administrative experience
- Fluency with Microsoft Office Suite
- Impeccable written and verbal communication skills
- Strong organizational skills, excellent time management and the ability to perform and prioritize multiple tasks seamlessly with excellent attention to detail
- Ability to exercise good judgement, anticipate and resolve problems, follow through on execution
- Professional demeanor and dress appropriate for representing Level One to external parties
- Very strong interpersonal skills and the ability to build relationships with stakeholders, including staff and external partners.
- Discretion concerning confidential and/or sensitive information
